My most recent job involved me running our busy clinic. My duties here included carrying out many various beauty and spa treatments as well as electrical face and body treatments. We were very popular with one treatment in particular which was our electrical slimming treatment. This used ultrasonic sound waves to melt fat. As I was senior at this branch it was my duty to ensure day to day tasks were carried out. I also answered phones, replied to emails, processed and dealt with customer enquiries effectively and quickly.
