Personal Statement

I adore the spa world, travelling is a must in my life, earning lots of money I like. I sold the most at Las Ventanas spa, although money wasn't an issue for the guests there, making them feel comfortable and treating them as if they were just any other human being was a plus in my development at this specific spa. Talking to these celebrities, tycoons in a very comfortable way, not pushy, very respectful, but with ease, not treatineg them as a celebrities (they hated it), but just as a normal person. Talking to many of them in their own language was an asset for my self.
