Personal Statement

People would describe me as friendly, enthusiastic, polite and passionate about what I do. I can work well in a team environment also independently using my initiative. Working in the industry for 9 years or so I have definitely gained knowledge and experience.

I know the importance of good communication skills, I have an understanding of the workplace in general and maintaining the industry standards and exceeding clients expectations.

I have always tried to better my skills but feel there's always room to grow and excel myself as a therapist.

My future goals would be to grow as a therapist and as an individual also to learn new techniques and other aspects of the industry.

Seeking work in Northern England and Western Australia

Employment History:

May 2012 - April 2013 - Spa Consultant at (most recent employer hidden for confidentiality) Western Australia, Australia, (Day Spa)

Duties included:

At Keturah the work ethics were very high standard just like Langdale Hotel and Spa. All aspects of beauty therapy but predominantly massage was my main source of clientele alongside Spa/body treatments also waxing, facials and Spa manicure and pedicures.

I covered reception when it was asked of me and to also check stock and general housekeeping chores.

A lot more Spa treatments involving a Vichy bed were very commonly used and I loved to carry out these treatments.

Brazilian waxing was also a major source of clientele for myself.

Keturah is an award winning Day Spa and expectations are very high with knowledge, treatments and retail and at my time at Keturah I made it a personal challenge to myself to achieve these goals. Keeping my treatments consistent and exceeding clients expectations was a must for myself also my employers.
