Personal Statement

I would describe myself as a very smiling person, with much charisma and someone who loves people. As a teacher, I always take good care of my pupils, each of them, and, at every job I have taken, I have made friends and many of my former pupils give me their best smiles every time I come across them in the street. I learn fast and I love different cultures and learning other languages, and that is why I would love to gain more experience abroad.
