Personal Statement

My academic experiences have given me valuable tools to be able to deal with a lot of complex information, and also the ability to make a project plan with tasks that need to be executed at specific times to enable me or the team to make deadlines.

I am a hard worker and jobs are always tackled with a creative, organized and can-do attitude. Determined on a goal I will problem solve everything to make it happen. This is reflected in life and study, by the fact that I started a company so to finance my studies and bought a boat to reduce my living cost.
